Is America the exceptional, #1 country in the world?

Of course it is!

David Morris of the Institute For Local Self-Reliance has published the truth about American exceptionalism.

It turns out, the US is #1 in all sorts of ways.

I love the America I was born in. However, looking at those graphs shows me that this is no longer the America I was born in. I don't love this America. The financial criminals that have sucked the life's blood out of this America deserve to be bashed. I want the America I was born in, back.

@Gordon: A lot of these statistics can be better understood in the context that the US is rapidly becoming a third-world populated country. The catastrophic consequences of the US system (and their mendacious ruthless rulers) to "America" (which is btw a proper comparison thus is to compare the social aspects of the US with a composite country consisting of say 25% Mexico, 15% South Africa and 60% United Kingdom.

Other races are considered as human [t--rds]. Our destiny is to rule over the inferior races. Our earthly kingdom will be ruled by our leader with a rod of iron. The masses will lick our feet and serve us as our slaves." - Menachem Begin, former PM of Israel.

@sooty: Although that has been repeated on many neo-Nazi sites, Begin didn't say that, but you already knew that. You also know this:

"But the most brilliant propagandist technique will yield no success unless one fundamental principle is borne in mind constantly and with unflagging attention. It must confine itself to a few points and repeat them over and over. Here, as so often in this world, persistence is the first and most important requirement for success."

"War Propaganda", in volume 1, chapter 6 of Mein Kampf (1925), by Adolf Hitler

And you also know this:

"Hitler and his supporters, the Nazi party, took power in Germany in 1933. They were Social Darwinists, meaning they thought that one race was superior and would "win" over all the others. The Nazis made laws that were based on their ideas of race. They claimed that "Aryans" were the "master race", called Aryanzation. They also made propaganda that blamed Jews for many things. German Jews were forbidden to own property, and were attacked and killed. When Germany invaded other countries in Europe, they also started putting people into concentration camps. This systematic killing is known as The Holocaust today.

To help increase the numbers of Aryans, the Nazis set up special homes called "Lebensborn". These were for unmarried pregnant woman who were likely to have children that fitted with the Aryan ideal; blonde hair, blue eyes, and no Jewish ancestors. Heinrich Himmler believed that this would help create the master race. He arranged for nine Lebensborn homes to be built in Germany, and another ten in Norway. There were also Lebensborn in France, Belgium and Luxembourg. About 20,000 children were born in these homes during the Third Reich."

'Mr. Begin never said those words and there is no factual basis for that quote. When we searched for the quote, we found that it looped back to the same text by Texe Marrs, who does not say that he is quoting Begin.

Further research at this site showed that the quote was attributed to "Amnon Kapeliouk's article "Begin and the Beasts" (New Statesman, June 25, 1982) which was infamous for having misrepresented some remarks Menachem Begin said in a speech to the Knesset, and there are legitimate sources all over the net that make reference to that incident.

However, the misrepresented quote is not the one cited ("Our race is the Master Race", etc.), but another one entirely (see below). Clearly, someone invented the "Master Race" quote and then tacked on Amnon Kapeliouk as the source, to give it credibility. However, even the REAL (and far less offensive) quote has now been proven to have been misrepresented by Kapeliouk.

The REAL story involving Kapeliouk's article is provided by a media-watch group called CAMERA (Committee for Accuracy in Middle East Reporting in America), which regularly debunks bogus news reports and misquotes."

There are racial purists everywhere including in Israel, and the Nazis weren't the only ones that made laws based on race. Ever heard of Israel's racist Law of Return?

Also, Jews can't marry Christians or Muslims in Israel. (At least up until 10 years ago.)

And these kinds of protests go on in Israel:

<http://www.jpost.com/NationalNews/Article.aspx?ID=200308&R=R1>

"Rightist rally warns against Arabs 'defiling Jewish girls'"

And what about this demonstration?

<http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=8n-y24SzbCY>

"South Tel Aviv on Fire"

Apparently, these Jewish racial purists don't want Israel to be turned into a "garbage can" although that's perfectly fine for the US to be.

"Tel Aviv is not the country's garbage can"....."as if this were the U.S.A."

"Welcome to Africa-town .. to Philippine-town."

@alois schickgruber: That quote from the blog is all over the place.

Flag as Offensive

It's Zio-obfuscation.

Eg.

"was infamous for having misrepresented some remarks Menachem Begin said in a speech to the Knesset, and there are legitimate sources all over the net that make reference to that incident."

Where are these 'legitimate sources all over the net'?

The Menachem Begin "MASTER RACE" quote was originally reported in the New Statesman. Texe Marrs is not the only person to refer to it. Jimmy Carter also referred to it in his book. Other sources referenced it. Kapeliouk was a Jewish Israeli journalist who understood Hebrew and was reporting the speech that was given in the Knesset by Prime Minister Begin.

PM Menachem Begin was also a terrorist that killed 91 people. He and his terrorist group blew up the King David Hotel. That kind of action is one that a Jewish Supremacist "We are the Master Race" would do. He probably thought he was just exterminating 'human t----rds', that is, non-Jews.

And a nation that thinks itself composed of people of the "MASTER RACE" would be exactly the ones that would elect a Jewish Supremacist terrorist-mass murderer to be its leader.

And such a supremacist nation would do the false flag murder of US navymen on the USS Liberty.

As well as kill Americans in the false flag La Belle Disco bombing.

And try and blow up American installations in a false flag attempt--the Lavon Affair.

And wipe out villagers in the Deir Yassin massacre.

And stand by and let children, women and old people be murdered in refugee camps in the Sabra and Shatilla massacre.

And so on

All the prisoners in America is not necessarily a bad thing. I remember how it was in the 70's and 80's with all the parasites running amok. Glad that is at least under control now. I live in NYC and there is a night and day difference now. It is expensive to incarcerate people and we decides to bear these costs in order to live safer lives. The only issue that I would have with incarceration in America is the imprisonment of the non violent petty drug offenders.

Who here thinks that if we lived in a culture that worshiped people like Larry Page, Sergey Brin, Jeff Bezos, and Paul Tudor Jones (people who work hard, become valued members of society, and contribute to the overall good) instead of a culture that worshiped Kim Kardashian and Paris Hilton (people who contribute nothing), that we would still see such a huge discrepancy between rich and poor?

We live in a culture that wants to BE wealthy, but is unwilling to BECOME wealthy. They live paycheck to paycheck spending all their cash on expensive things they have no business owning. You don't get ahead that way. You don't become wealthy that way. It's not bad that 1% of our country controls so much wealth.....it's bad that only 1% of our population is smart enough to understand this concept.

If the American public wants someone to blame for their current financial problems, they need only to look in a mirror. Quit blaming the system, the system works. The system was designed to provide an opportunity, and that opportunity is still very much alive. The system was NOT designed to make sure everyone can live like a socialite without earning it.
