The Politicians have good reason to keep these programs under wrap because evidence shows that the programs involve the dumping of mega-tons of toxic material into the atmosphere. For those concerned about organic farming, wildlife biodiversity and human health and wellbeing, not to mention our general experience on this planet, this has to be the greatest scandal untold in history. Worst of all, Parliament's documents on geo-engineering admit that the climate is unwieldy and that the outcomes of such programs are unpredictable.

What in the World Are They Spraying? (Full Share More info)

G. Edward Griffin recently produced a Youtube hit on this topic called "What in the World are they Spraying" and is presently producing a follow up called "Why in the World are they Spraying". The documentary commences with news coverage of geo-engineering and then moves to coverage of a geo-engineering conference where scientists gathered to discuss programs. Most shocking of all was the admission that one proposal involves the spraying of 10 to 20 million tons of aluminium into the stratosphere to block out sunshine and manipulate weather patterns. The health and wildlife implications of this trigger concerns verging on genocide. The producers then went to visit Mount Shasta, California, where levels of aluminium in what should be a pristine wilderness have been measured at levels that should not occur next to an aluminium smelting plant. Subsequent investigation by the Mount Shasta Bioregional Ecology Centre found aluminium concentrations at 2190 ug/l, barium at 43 ug/l (ppm) and strontium also at high levels. A similar pattern of toxicity has also been observed by Rosalind Peterson of The Agricultural Defence Coalition. Also, Clifford Carnicom who was one of the first people to bring these programs to light with his movie, Aerosol Crimes.

But it is not just citizen reporters looking into this. We have Bill Gates pouring cash into projects calling for the horrific spraying of millions of tons of sulphur dioxide 30 miles above the earth. As I said, LiborGate forget it, what we need is a new ClimateGate, or even God-Gate since that is what these so called people are trying to play. Just imagine what this is doing to air quality and the epidemic of death and disease for plants, humans and wildlife when megatons of aluminium, barium, sulphur dioxide, strontium and more sink to earth. Yet Gates claims to be a custodian of the planet, protecting us from global warming in a great irony.

Of course, to those who understand physics, and you can look this up, CO2 is measured in parts per million and is less potent a greenhouse gas than water vapour, which is 2% of the atmosphere and is primarily affected by sunshine. Gates must be aware of this since the sulphur he plans to inject into the atmosphere deflects heat primarily by nucleating clouds so that water vapour deflects heat from the planet, yet we are told that CO2 is the primary driver of the climate. Articles everywhere are stating that these programs could end our beautiful blue skies, turning them milk white, yet no debate.

CO2 is also being targeted, but the proposed solution gives a clue as to the real motivations. The Guardian again, recently reported plans to dump mega-tons of iron into the oceans. This would cause algal blooms that would sequester CO2. The problem is that this will also eliminate oxygen from the ocean creating dead zones for fish and marine plants, causing not only an ecological disaster but also potentially a massive fish shortage. The iron will also bio-accumulate in the fish we eat, causing toxicity in humans. Articles focus on the CO2 aspect, but the wholesale dumping of heavy metals into the atmosphere and sea make it more likely that this is corporations attempting to profit from toxic waste dumping. Converting a liability into a profit centre, making these programs defacto bailouts for heavy manufacturing firms.

Looking back in history, this is nothing new. Old timers may recall that the US military was using geo-engineering during the 1960's in Vietnam to extend the Monsoon season on the Ho Chi Minh Trail to flood out their enemies, then spraying tons of silver iodide. In 1977, the United Nations published the Environmental Modification Treaty, which states all the various methods and outlaws weather warfare, so this is old news really. More recently, the US Air Force made the audacious statement that it wishes to "own the weather" by 2025 in its "Weather as a Force Multiplier: Owning the Weather in 2025". Closer to home, the BBC reported that the UK military had dumped tons of cadmium over

The UK has been let down by its policymakers

Norwich during the 1960's correlating with a massive increase in oesophageal cancer and cadmium is a known carcinogen. Unfortunately, as with the stories above and, as with manipulation of our financial system, it was the tip of a rather big iceberg with The Guardian reporting on declassified chemical and biological weapons testing over much of Britain between 1940 and the late 1970's. These involved wholesale spraying of zinc cadmium sulphide, biological agents and more, in over 100 admitted "trials" which will themselves be dwarfed by projects which remain classified. In a defacto admission that these programs still exist, most likely merged into the overall geo-engineering program, Sue Ellison, Spokeswoman for Porton Down, asked whether such tests are still being carried out, said: 'It is not our policy to discuss ongoing research.'

Meanwhile, as stated above, Parliament, aware of these proposals advises against public debate on what should be the greatest debate human discussion since Adam's decision to leave the Garden of Eden! The question is whether we wish to live in a natural world, or an engineered planet pumped full of megatons of sulphur and heavy metals. That debate ought to have free reign to question motives and the "science" behind it, lest the military's stated goal of owning the weather provide them motivation to provide us a false narrative. It is this author's opinion that the burden of proof should be on the perpetrators, not the general public. In a massive expression of irony, London recently imposed emissions caps on heavy vehicles driving into central London. Could it be that said industrialists failed to invest in clean engines because they have been taxed out of existence to pay for black projects like geo-engineering and, bailouts of the fraudulent shadow banking system which they had no idea even existed?

Some say that we need a return to Glass-Steagall style regulations to separate casino banking from high street banking. I say that those measures are outdated. What we need is to go further and develop a system to separate normal people from the morons currently in charge. The traditional method for dealing with known hooligans and admitted psychopaths is jury trial and incarceration. However, for crimes against humanity and the planet such as spraying mega tons of heavy metals into the stratosphere and ocean; do not be surprised if others call for a return to capital punishment.

Returning to finance, this writer agrees with Max Keiser that all investors should include guillotine manufacturers in their portfolio. If that industry fails to take off, we recommend strong defensive positions in your portfolio dominated by pharmaceutical companies and undertakers to profit from the geo-engineering genocide.

Since writing this article, I have found various references to geo-engineers seeking to make lots of money selling carbon credits. Some thought that renewable energy would be the next financial bubble, but it already appears to be cracking. Could geo-engineering and the leveraging of other businesses feeding off the carbon credit scam be the next scam financial bubble to put capitalism at risk?

In 2009, The United States House of Representatives Science & Technology Committee has agreed to work with the UK Parliament on Geoengineering Issues. These formal agreements, UK Parliament hearings, three U.S. House Science & Technology Committee Hearings in 2009-2010, final reports and other information are all online or can be found on this website under Geoengineering:

There are no laws which prohibit these atmospheric experiments. There is no public oversight of these experiments. The promoters note unintended consequences.

Under the current definition of Geoengineering or Climate Remediation Schemes is (Solar Radiation Management): These schemes are only designed to "MASK" any warming trends through atmospheric releases experiments using toxic chemicals (like Sulfur or Aluminum Oxide), mixed with water vapor (a greenhouse gas). See AAAS Meeting 2010, for Keith description of one Solar Radiation Management Scheme using this technique to reduce the amount of direct sunlight reaching the Earth.

The impact of Solar Radiation Management (reducing the amount of direct sunlight reaching the Earth), has the potential to pollute our air, water, soils and also damage the Earth's protective ozone layer. In addition, the acid rains will destroy plants and trees while making soils unproductive in the long term. A lack of direct sunlight will reduce photosynthesis causing tree and plant declines and also reducing crop production. SRM will reduce Solar Panel Power Production and decrease the amount of Vitamin D that can be absorbed by our skin causing Vitamin D Deficiencies and associated health effects. Rickets in children is on the rise in the United States according to the CDC, U.C. Berkeley Studies, and Kaiser Permanente reports.

The U.S. Navy and NASA using a Brandt Rocket released an aluminum oxide dust cloud over the Easter Seaboard of the United States in 2009. The Navy's Charge Aerosol Release Experiment (CARE), is just one atmospheric experiment. Trimethylaluminum experiments have been conducted by the U.S. Air Force and NASA in 2012, as well as in previous years.

Chaff, (Aluminum Coated Fiberglass Particulates) is atmospherically released by the U.S. Military each year according to the U.S. Air Force and U.S. Navy. NASA CRRES Programs have atmospherically released via rockets and the Space Shuttle, barium, strontium, SF6, Lithium, Calcium, and other types of releases.

Our atmosphere is being used as an experimental physics laboratory. We have the right to say "no" to these experiments which threat our soils, drinking water, human health, and air. I encourage everyone to learn the facts about what experiments are taking place in our atmosphere and to demand that they stop now.

The jets above us that leave persistent jet contrails (loaded with jet fuel emissions and water vapor, a greenhouse gas), are producing man-made clouds that are creating climate change-exacerbating global warming in the Alaska and Arctic Regions-and negatively impacting our natural resources according to NASA and other university studies.

Highly Toxic Rocket Fuel (Perchlorate) from missiles and rocket launches contain aluminum particulates. EPA and military studies confirm that aluminum particulates are in this type of fuel.

And we know that plants and trees, marine mammals, along with humans are negatively impacted by aluminum releases. Why are we silent on this important issue? Why aren't are elected officials taking action to stop these atmospheric releases?

Jets change the climate...ongoing weather modification programs in the U.S. and around the world (UCAR & NOAA documents), are causing dramatic climate change. Worldwide artificially caused droughts, floods, lightning experiments (by the U.S. Air Force and private experiments), are all taking place at this time. No wonder our climate and local weather is so unusual and dramatic at times. And to make matters worse the Chicago Mercantile Exchange now allows betting on the Weather, futures better on snow and rainfall totals-a $multi-billion betting industry.

Join together today-Educate everyone...and put a STOP to our atmosphere being used as a giant experimental physics laboratory by our military, private individuals, universities for research, corporations or anyone that wants to conduct these types of experiments.

Join in supporting the people of New Mexico in stopping David Keith & Bill Gates in conducting a Geoengineering SPICE experiment at public expense. We don't need these types of uncontrolled experiments taking place in the U.S.

Respectfully,

Rosalind Peterson
