Climate Change Unravels But Refuses to Die!

February 17, 2010 · 4 Comments

What in the world is happening? Could it be? Climate change is a scam?

So you are probably thinking... Climate Change, Cap & Trade and the like are dead... Why is he still writing about this? Wake up, people this is the administration that refuses to give up on healthcare reform and trying KSM in NYC!

News Flashes from the real world!

- For the first time in 14 years, Lake Erie is frozen. That's right, the entire surface of the 241-mile-long lake is frozen over end to end.
- Last week, the east coast was battered by record snowfalls with some areas receiving three feet of snow. This is not a singular event though. So far this year, Baltimore (72.3 inches), Washington D.C. (54.9 inches) and Philadelphia (70.3 inches) have all beaten their previous records for snowiest winters.
- From The Register, a U.K. newspaper: "More trouble looms for the IPCC. The body may need to revise statements made in its Fourth Assessment Report on hurricanes and global warming. A statistical analysis of the raw data shows that the claims that global hurricane activity has increased cannot be supported."
- From Les Hatton, PhD Meteorologist and fellow of the Royal Meteorological Society: Analyzed hurricane activity from 1946 to 2009. He studied the number of storms and their strengths. He concluded the pattern averaged out. He went on to say that Al Gore made misleading statements in his prediction (more intense hurricanes) for the next 100 year pattern by choosing to use the 2005 (Katrina) data in a vacuum to support his assertion. Within the data set 2005 stands out as a complete anomaly.
- A growing number of "climate change" researchers are focused on the accuracy of thousands of weather stations around the world, which have been used to collect temperature data over the past 100 years. "The temperature records cannot be relied on as indicators of global change," said John Christy, professor of atmospheric science at the University of Alabama in Huntsville, a former lead author on the IPCC. Many of these gathering stations have been compromised by everything from urbanization to relocation. There are well documented examples of weather stations in places such as: next to heat generating equipment, at the Rome airport near an area where jets are taxiing and on the grounds of an waste industrial incinerator. Ross McKittrick, professor of economics at the University of Guelph, Canada, an invitee to a recent IPCC event said, "We concluded, with overwhelming statistical significance, that the IPCC's climate data are contaminated with surface effects from industrialization and data quality problems. These add up to a large warming bias."
- And last from Professor Phil Jones, former director of the University of East Anglia's Climatic Research Unit comes the following admissions:

1. For the past 15 years there has been no ‘statistically significant’ warming.
2. Conceded the possibility that the world was warmer in medieval times than now. (This would imply global warming is not a man-made phenomenon.)
3. Admitted he had “trouble” keeping track of the raw data that was critical to the theory of climate change. (What the hell does that mean – you’re a scientist?)

The proof against this scam is starting to pile up. The story is unraveling. So what’s next? Will it die?

Will the Obama administration call a time out and attempt to sort out the truth from the lies? After all, this is a huge piece of their political agenda. One would think they would want to be sure they are on the right track before pushing the country and our economy down a path from which there is no return.

To get the answer we turn to NOAA (National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration) administrator Jane Lubchenco, who was asked this question on NPR, “Last week we saw some really unusual weather patterns not only through the mid-Atlantic but even today in the southern part of the US. What do you think has made this year so different?” To which she replied, “It’s important that people recognize that weather is not the same as climate, and record-breaking storms neither negate nor approve climate change. This year we have indeed seen a lot of seemingly strange things — record snowfalls in the mid-Atlantic region — even though the planet is warming. And this isn’t a contradiction, and it’s not really unexpected. The multiple snowstorms we’ve been seeing this winter with more on the way likely are a result of the confluence of El Nino and the Arctic Oscillation”.

Of course, this is true – El Nino and the Arctic Oscillation are cyclical parts of our weather pattern and occur regardless of man-made activity. The point being that weather is weather and climate change if it does exist would need other scientific data besides weather to support it. However, the environmental elite want to have it both ways. They want to point at weather when it suits their argument and discredit it when it doesn’t. That is why they renamed it “climate change” from “global warming”, after all.

As for Ms. Lubchenco, she just keeps pushing the administrations agenda. When asked, “What is your reaction to the growing sense around the country, perhaps even around the world, that global warming is a hoax?” She replied, “Climate change is underway. It’s happening now. It is resulting in many changes that will affect the way people live and do business. And the fact that we are getting more and more requests for information about droughts, about future heat waves, about air quality, forest fires, sea level rise inundating coasts...” Really?

“It (Climate Change) has become completely political — it’s not about science at all,” said Fox affiliate WDAF chief meteorologist, Mike Thompson “If science were the objective, then we would be seeing an entirely different debate. But there are agendas at play, and it has undermined the credibility of climate science.”

Remember this...

Quote from the Club of Rome: “In searching for a new enemy to unite us, we came up with the idea that pollution, the threat of global warming, water shortages, famine and the like would fit the bill....All these dangers are caused by human intervention....and thus the “real enemy, then, is humanity itself....believe humanity requires a common motivation, namely a common adversary in order to realize world government. It does not matter if this common enemy is “a real one or....one invented for the purpose.” (The Club of Rome is an elitist think tank founded in 1968 and dedicated to limiting growth of the industrialized nations worldwide.)

... Or this?

UN Secretary Ban Ki-Moon: “ All agree that climate change is an existential threat to humankind. ... The issues are complex, affecting everything from national economies to individual lifestyles. They involve political trade-offs and commitments of resources no leader can undertake lightly. ... Yet the elements of a deal are on the table. All we require to put them in place is political will. We need to step back from narrow national interest and engage in frank and constructive discussion in a spirit of global common cause”.

First, all do not agree that its’ real, much less an eminent threat to the world. Also read what is said closely and it is easy to see the real picture. The goal is a “global common cause”. So what does that mean? Again read carefully. It involves “political trade-offs”, “commitments of resources”, and “the need to step back from narrow national interests”. If you pay attention it is pretty easy to decipher, the plan calls for a worldwide social re-engineering that will lead to world government.

“It (Climate Change) has become completely political — it’s not about science at all,” said Fox affiliate WDAF chief meteorologist, Mike Thompson “If science were the objective, then we would be seeing an entirely different debate. But there are agendas at play, and it has undermined the credibility of climate science.”

There’s your answer! IT IS NOT going away, the climate change scam and the “green agenda” will just keep reinventing itself looking for a way to invade your psyche. The “Progressive Left” will keep trying to find a scare tactic to get us on board because “It does not matter if this common enemy is “a real one or....one invented for the purpose.””

Plain and simple this is a power grab designed to redistribute wealth and reengineer society. In the absence of legislation the Obama administration has used the EPA to continue pushing their agenda declaring carbon dioxide “a harmful greenhouse gas”. They also established a Climate Program inside the NOAA to provide the public with “information on the climate and how it impacts their lives”. Can you say propoganda?

Remember their goals...

Quote by Michael Oppenheimer, major environmentalist: “The only hope for the world is to make sure there is not another United States. We can’t let other countries have the same number of cars, the amount of industrialization, we have in the US. We have to stop these Third World countries right where they are.”

Quote by Emma Brindal, a climate justice campaigner coordinator for Friends of the Earth: “A climate change response must have at its heart a redistribution of wealth and resources.”

Wake up, America! This is a global scam. Our sovereignty, our economy and our futures are at stake! Contact your elected representatives and The White House - tell them; No Cap & Trade, No Treaties on Climate Change, No deals with the U.N. and no subsidies to foreign governments (carbon reparations) – we do not owe them and we can not afford to pay them!

Restore the Republic, Reject the Agenda of the Progressive Left, Reject Green Lies!

“Freedom is never more than one generation away from extinction. We didn’t pass it to our children in the bloodstream. It must be fought for, protected, and handed on for them to do the same, or one day we will spend our sunset years telling our children and our children’s children what it was once like in the United States where men were free”. – Ronald Reagan

It is all about control and money. Follow the money trail and you will see who is inventing global warming. It is an illusion that has been created to pick the pockets of everyone. If it is science show us the data, don't say I lost the data but trust me. Maybe saying the dog ate my homework when you were a kid is ok but it won't work now.

Ever since the '60s we've seen good evidence that thoughtless trashing of the environment is dangerous — and most of the industrialized nations have done something sensible about it. Unfortunately, every socio-political movement collects its hangers-on and exploiters, and the environmental movement is no exception. Example: it's sensible to shift from gasoline to renewable fuel, such as cellulosic-ethanol — but the exploiters insist we must give up cars altogether. Another example: as the 3rd most populated country in the world (China is 1st with a billion people, India second with 600 million, the US 3rd with 300 million), it's sensible that we should make all forms of birth-control available and try to cut our numbers down — but the exploiters take this as an excuse to move millions of illegal immigrants into our country. I'm sure you can think of plenty of other examples.

The Global Warming scam was obviously intended to strip America of its industry and turn it into the world's farm, thus allowing China, Japan and India to become the new world industrial leaders. A scam of this size took lots of money to establish, and if you trace the money-trail back to its source, three guesses where it leads?

“Globalism” itself is a scam, intended to rob America for the enrichment of Asian tyrannies. We should withdraw from the whole idiocy — and from the United Nations — take care of our own land and people, and our real allies, and let the rest of the world's governments sink or swim their own merits (or lack of them) without our help.

It's not the progressive left pushing this agenda. it is the Rockefeller/Rothschild cabal that run the Club of Rome, the Bilderbergers, The UN and the Council of Foreign relations. It is neither left or right, it is the Aristocracy who feed on the labors of the peasants. These people view us all as cattle and therefore disposable. They currently look upon us as the great unwashed uncontrolled masses who are eating “Their” resources, and they have an agenda to wipe out the vast majority if we let them.. Don't fall for the left/right paradigm. They control both sides and channel our dislike of the other to their advantage.

I mostly agree with your comment. The aristocracy is the engine that turns the wheel but the Progressive Left is their tool for advancing their agenda. It is not a coincidence that so many of the Progressives are also elitists.
