

Master of Arts in MILITARY HISTORY Online	International Military History	Military Strategy and Tactics	American Military History		 NORWICH UNIVERSITY
--	--------------------------------------	-------------------------------------	---------------------------------	--	---

THE Nation.

Today in The Nation

Immigrants to Obama: It's Time

Gabriel Thompson: Around the country, the temperature in immigrant communities is rising--and on Sunday, Washington, DC, will feel the heat.

Act Now: March for America

The Breakdown: Will Dodd's Financial Reform Bill Protect Consumers?

GOP Peaceniks?

War in Iraq, Seven Years On

Dodd's Not-Independent Consumer Watchdog

Slacker Friday

30 Million Reasons

The Editors: We support passage of the healthcare legislation, even as we urge the progressive community to begin the struggle immediately to correct its many flaws and improve its protections.

John Nichols: Memo to Stupak: Nuns Back Reform as "Real Pro-Life Stance"

A Wise Unknowingness: On Violet Gibson

Brenda Wineapple: The woman who shot Mussolini.

Paul Duguid: Privacy Degree Zero

NEWS & ANALYSIS

Attack of the Cheneys

They're baaaaack! Liz, Dick, Bill and the neocons plot to retake Washington.

Immigrants to Obama: It's Time

Around the country, the temperature in immigrant communities is rising--and on Sunday, Washington, DC, will feel the heat.

Payback for Prochoicers

It's our turn now--and here's our list.

A Right to Life for the Living

African-American children face threats to their survival, and African-American women are confronted with challenges to their capacity to parent healthy children. But shaming misinformation campaigns do nothing to address these problems.

Twisting History in Texas

Texas's new curriculum teaches students about: women who adhere to traditional gender roles, the Confederacy, some parts of the Constitution, capitalism, the military and religion.

Who Speaks for Human Rights?

A clash between a feminist activist and a former Guantánamo detainee divides the left.

Living for the City

There's more to the legend of Jane Jacobs than her showdown with Robert Moses.  SUB

Californians March into the Heartland

Holding the budget hostage while state unemployment tops 12 percent, California growers and their political allies have slashed funding for schools and social services. The March for California's Future is challenging the stranglehold that big agriculture exerts over the state.

Hondurans' Great Awakening

Despite brutal repression, a bold resistance movement is defying the US-backed coup regime.

Noted.

John Nichols on Kucinich care; Nicholas Kusnetz on free trade with Colombia.  SUB

Watching the Media Watchdogs

Our media watchdogs require close watching. It's been an article of faith for Nation editors and readers since the founding of the magazine. I'm excited to join this tradition, and take it to new terrain at Media Fix, The Nation's first blog devoted to highlighting the best and worst of current media.

The Wrong Kind of Green

How conservation groups are bargaining away our future.

Conservation Groups & Corporate Cash: An Exchange

Johann Hari's piece "The Wrong Kind of Green" takes mainstream environmental groups to task for selling out their principles, often in exchange for money from the worst polluters. We invited a range of green groups mentioned in the article to respond to Hari's arguments in this special online forum.

Lame Bill from a Lame Duck

If you think healthcare reform has been an unsatisfying test of the government's ability to deal with our pressing problems, brace yourself for bigger disappointment in its attempt to bridle Wall Street.

Hey, Sailor...

The closet persists, for Eric Massa and for countless others. SUB

Read More

Newsletter

Enter your email address for free email advisories.

 Sign-Up

VIA Newsfeed

The Nation's RSS Feed

NATION MULTIMEDIA

Previous
Next

Separation of Jefferson and History

Our Columnists

From the print edition

SUBJECT TO DEBATE

Payback for Prochoicers

Katha Pollitt

Letters

Calvin Trillin & Our Readers * SUB

THE LIBERAL MEDIA

Money for Nothing

Eric Alterman

BEAT THE DEVIL

Move Over, Axis of Evil

Alexander Cockburn * SUB

Chile's Socialist Rebar

Naomi Klein

DIARY OF A MAD LAW PROFESSOR

Convergences

Patricia J. Williams SUB

A Radio Tour of Tea Party Nation

Gary Younge

PROGRESSIVE CALENDAR

« Last
Next »

March 20, 2010

March 20, 2010

Exonerate the Rosenbergs? New York, NY

'The God Virus': Discussion Led by Dr. Darrell Ray Santa Barbara, CA

Forum Theater A Theater of the Oppressed Technique New York, NY

» Add Your Event

Books & The Arts

Reviews, essays, poems and more

BOOK

A Wise Unknowingness

Brenda Wineapple : "There is such a thing as a moral atmosphere." So said Violet Gibson, the woman who shot Mussolini.

BOOK

Living for the City

Samuel Zipp : There's more to the legend of Jane Jacobs than her showdown with Robert Moses. SUB

BOOK

Privacy Degree Zero

Paul Duguid : For all its defenders, privacy remains hard to understand.

ART

Dimensions of the Abyss

Barry Schwabsky : The visual art of the Black Atlantic explores an ambivalence that exceeds double consciousness. ★ SUB

Back Talk: Martha C. Nussbaum

Christine Smallwood : A conversation with the author of From Disgust to Humanity about various forms of opposition to gay equality.

BOOK

A Life's Sentence

Maureen Howard : In The Lacuna, Barbara Kingsolver turns a storybook into a dazzling manipulation of storytelling. ★ SUB

BOOK

Heroic Impatience

Diego Gambetta : The past was one single catastrophe to the Baader-Meinhof Gang, and acts of violence the only perceived exit.

BOOK

Shelf Life

Barry Schwabsky : Charles Juliet's Conversations with Samuel Beckett and Bram van Velde; Matthew Spender's Arshile Gorky: Goats on the Roof: A Life in Letters and Documents; Zak Smith's We Did Porn: Memoir and Drawings. ★ SUB

BOOK

A Body on the Gears

Scott Saul : At Berkeley in 1964, Mario Savio embodied the need to speak and act in the face of doubt.

BOOK

The Renunciation Artist

William Deresiewicz : The axis of moral struggle, a stroke of salvation--these are the spiritual dimensions of Tolstoy's late fiction.

» More of Books & The Arts

Newsfeeds

From around the web.

Obama's Student Loan Plan Moving Forward with Health Bill | Nick Anderson & Alec MacGillis | Washington Post— posted 3/19/2010 9:35 EST

Senators Announce Framework for Bipartisan Immigration Bill | Anna Gorman | LA Times— posted 3/19/2010 9:35 EST

Retired General Links Gays in Military, Bosnian Massacre | Barbara Starr | CNN— posted 3/19/2010 9:35 EST

U.S. Bases in Colombia Rattle the Region | Benjamin Dangl | The Progressive— posted 3/18/2010 9:44 EST

Citizens Unite: The Constitutional Amendment America Needs | Lawrence Lessig | The New Republic— posted 3/18/2010 9:38 EST

US and Russia make 'good progress' on Nuclear Arms Deal | Staff Report | BBC News — posted 3/18/2010 9:34 EST

Stupak Dismisses Nuns' Letter: I Don't Listen to Them, I Listen to 'Leading Bishops' and Focus o | Amanda Turkel | Think Progress— posted 3/18/2010 9:25 EST

Work to Cease on 'Virtual Fence' Along U.S.-Mexico Border | Spencer S. Hsu | Washington Post— posted 3/17/2010 12:07 EST

GOP Senator Predicts Legal Challenges to 'Deem and Pass' | Jordan Fabian | The Hill — posted 3/17/2010 12:07 EST

Jobs Bill Clears Senate, Heads To Obama's Desk | Andrew Taylor | Huffington Post— posted 3/17/2010 12:07 EST

Copyright © 2009 The Nation

Cancel