SAMPLE EMAIL:

Dear New York State Legislators-

"I call upon you, an elected official of the State of New York, to impose a moratorium on drilling in shale formations, a decision which will protect the land, air and water of our state. As has been shown in cases across the country, from Colorado to Pennsylvania, hydraulic fracturing or "fracking" for natural gas is not safe. I am extremely concerned for our public health and safety and for the integrity of our clean water and air. As the disaster in the gulf continues to unfold and gas drilling accidents are a staple on the news, this is hardly the time to allow industry profit to trump citizen safety. We urge you to pass the strongest possible moratorium bill now so that the health problems, water contamination issues and air pollution problems can be fully assessed by the public and the legislature.

Thank you.

WILLIAMSPORT ACTION

Last week, EOG Resources (formerly a part of Enron) lost control of a Marcellus Shale gas well near the Moshannon State Forest in Clearfield County, Pennsylvania. Natural gas mixed with toxic frack water spewed 75 feet into the air for 16 hours before being brought under control.

Sunday night, a deep shale drilling operation owned by Chief Oil and Gas, which is also active in Pennsylvania, exploded in rural West Virginia. Flames shot at least 50 feet into the sky, burning seven workers.

Drilling in PA's Marcellus Shale has brought us contaminated drinking water, toxic chemical spills, hazardous levels of Total Dissolved Solids in streams and rivers, crumbling roads and bridges, and increased crime rates.

The Responsible Drilling Alliance (RDA) is working with other organizations to strengthen existing legislation and regulations governing gas industry operations. RDA also supports development of new, stronger laws and regs that will better protect PA's economic interests, public health and safety and the environment.

Gas industry lobbyists are spending over one million dollars a year to influence our legislators. Will you spend 5 dollars to let your voice be heard?

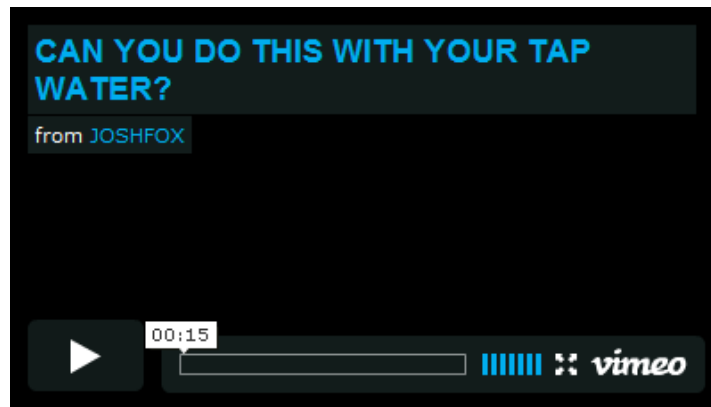

RDA is teaming up with Clean Water Action to hold a lobby day in Harrisburg on Tuesday, June 22nd. We will charter a bus and depart from Williamsport at 8 AM, meet with legislators in Harrisburg according to a schedule worked out by Clean Water Action, and return by 5 PM same day. The cost for a seat on the bus is just $5.00. The value of the time you will invest in PA's future is priceless.

We need your help! If you can join us for this event, please reply by email to responsibledrillingalliance@gmail.com. Kindly note "BUS TRIP" on the reference line, and give us your name and phone number in the body of the message. We will be in touch regarding details of the trip and the events planned.

When filmmaker Josh Fox discovers that Natural Gas drilling is coming to his area—the Catskills/Poconos region of Upstate New York and Pennsylvania, he sets off on a 24 state journey to uncover the deep consequences of the United States' natural gas drilling boom. What he uncovers is truly shocking—water that can be lit on fire right out of the sink, chronically ill residents of drilling areas from disparate locations in the US all with the same mysterious symptoms, huge pools of toxic waste that kill cattle and vegetation well blowouts and huge gas explosions consistently covered up by state and federal regulatory agencies. These are just a few of the many absurd and astonishing revelations of a new country called GASLAND.
