Welcome to the REDD information sharing web platform.

Parties, relevant organizations and stakeholders are encouraged to submit information relating to reducing emissions from deforestation and forest degradation in developing countries (REDD) to this web platform.

Please submit information and/or any queries/feedback on this web platform to the following e-mail address:
< red_webplatform@unfccc.int >

Please also read the terms and conditions on use of and access to information on this web platform.

Background

The agenda item on "Reducing emissions from deforestation in developing countries and approaches to stimulate action" was first introduced into the COP agenda at its eleventh session in Montreal (December 2005).

Scope of the Web Platform

The COP, in its decision 2/CP.13, requested the secretariat to develop a web platform where information submitted by Parties, relevant organizations and stakeholders will be made available. The COP has invited Parties, relevant organizations and stakeholders to support ongoing efforts, capacity building, demonstration activities and mobilization of resources relating to reducing emissions from deforestation and forest degradation in developing countries and to share the outcomes of these efforts with the SBSTA by providing corresponding information to the secretariat.

This web platform provides information submitted by Parties, relevant organizations and stakeholders with the aim of sharing such information provided. The information can be found under the following areas:

- Technical Assistance
- Demonstration Activities
- Country Specific Information
- Methodologies and Tools

>> Information Sharing on Costs of Implementing Methodologies and Monitoring Systems
