

Home
Contact Us

- ABOUT
- ACADEMICS
- PEOPLE
- RESEARCH
- OUTREACH
- ADVISORY BOARD
- AFFILIATES PROGRAM
- VIRGINIA TECH

AFFILIATES PROGRAM

Dr. Dan Sable, president of VPT Incorporated and chairman of the Space@VT Advisory Board, presents a check for $15,000 to Space@VT as the inaugural member of the corporate affiliates program. Those present include (right to left) Dr. Dan Sable, Dr. James Thorp, head of the Bradley

Department of Electrical and Computer Engineering, Dr. Scott Bailey and Dr. Wayne Scales, Space@VT faculty members, and Dr. Richard Benson, Dean of the Virginia Tech College of Engineering.

The Center for Space Science and Engineering at Virginia Tech (Space @ VT) currently offers an affiliates program for private corporations. The affiliate programs are individually designed to provide mutual benefit to both the corporate affiliate as well as Space@VT.

Benefits of the affiliates program include access to Space@VT research results and engagement with Space@VT students through a variety of means. More information about joining the corporate affiliates program can be obtained through contacting Space@VT. The current membership is:

- VPT Incorporated
- Orbital Sciences Corporation
- Northrop Grumman Corporation

Center for Space Science and Engineering Research © 2007